BG Controls awarded BCIA 'Independent Systems Installer of the Year'

The Building Controls Industry Awards 2009

WINNER - INDEPENDENT SYSTEMS INSTALLER OF THE YEAR

Leading building controls specialist BG Controls has won the 2009 Building Controls Industry Award (BCIA) for 'Independent Systems Installer of the Year'.

The 2009 BCIA event celebrated excellence in the building controls industry and winners were announced at an awards presentation dinner, held at the Hilton Hotel, Coventry in May.

Winners were selected by a panel of independent judges who based their decision on set criteria, which includes demonstrating professionalism, meeting client objectives, system delivery and innovation.

BG Controls beat off stiff competition from five other finalists to secure the highly coveted award – for its commitment to providing quality, cost-effective solutions to meet the needs of its clients.

As an independent installer, and one that embraces open systems, BG Controls supplies a one-stop shop of controls, panel manufacture, access control, electrical installation and maintenance services. Its energy customers receive a payback of two to four times their annual investment with the company.

“We are delighted to have won this award,” comments Duncan Biggins, managing director at BG Controls. “It’s great to receive recognition for all the hard work that the team has carried out in the past year!. BG has always strived to differentiate itself from the competition through its unique service offering and this award is testament that we’ve achieved this.”
